

UKSSH AND MALVERN SCAFFOLDING DELIVER DIVINE BEAUTY SCAFFOLDING TOUR FOR BIRMINGHAM CATHEDRAL.

GASSE STUDY

The public are lapping up the chance join the "Divine Beauty Scaffolding Tour" at Birmingham Cathedral.

While we think the title may refer to the viewing platform and public access staircase supplied by UKSSH and built by Malvern Scaffolding, apparently people are also keen to witness the historic conservation work being undertaken on the Cathedral's four wonderful Burne-Jones windows.

At just 2.5 metres in height, the public access staircase at Birmingham Cathedral may be one of the smallest ones that you see, but nonetheless it delivers a fully compliant solution which is a vital component of a successful project.
